

[APACALL Book Series Volume 5]
Technology-Enhanced Language Teaching in Action

Call for Papers

All APACALL members are invited to make new submissions to the APACALL Book Series Volume 5. The book aims to be a valuable collection of APACALL members' practical teaching ideas and practices in CALL environments. It takes a cookbook approach in a creative way and will be published by APACALL as a free e-book (with ISBN) available for everyone. Authors will need to submit their activity description in a required format that will be provided individually. You are allowed to submit as many technology-enhanced language teaching activities as you want.

Members who are interested in contributing to the book should first send an e-mail message of intent, with "APACALL Book 5 –" and "your name" (e.g., APACALL Book 5 – Jeong-Bae Son) in the Subject field, and their contact details in the main text, to the Editor (drjbson@gmail.com) between 18 March and 15 April 2020. Upon receipt of the email, the Activity Submission Form (Word document) will be sent to the sender of the email. Please see the proposed timeline for the publication of the book below:

Call for Interests: 18 March – 15 April 2020

Submission deadline: 30 June 2020

Notification of review results: 31 July 2020

Revised submission deadline: 31 August 2020

Editorial work: September 2020

Publication: October 2020

Note: All contributors to the book must be APACALL members. If you are not an APACALL member, please join APACALL first by completing and submitting its Membership Application Form on the APACALL website. Membership is free.

Thank you!